

HOME IS WHERE THE HEART IS.
SUBURBAN HOSPITAL'S CARDIAC SURGERY TEAM
GETS YOU THERE QUICKLY AND SAFELY.

*Philip C. Corcoran, M.D.
Cardiothoracic Surgeon*

*Keith A. Horvath, M.D.
Chief of Cardiothoracic Surgery*

Now there's even more reason to trust the skilled staff of the NIH Heart Center at Suburban Hospital for your heart surgery. Patients here are more likely to return home sooner and safely from their surgeries than they would at other cardiac hospitals in the region. It all begins with the expertise of the surgical team led by Dr. Keith Horvath and Dr. Philip Corcoran. And unlike the other cardiac hospitals, Suburban Hospital's heart surgery patients stay in the same room from the time they leave the operating room to the day they're discharged. Which means patients are cared for by the same team throughout their stay, and that leads to better communication and faster recovery. For more information, call 301.896.7610.
